Disclaimer: Hacked customers are customers made to Minecraft offering (known as hacks or modules) for players who are not part of minecraft vanilla game. No Customer Site or Company is affiliated with Mojang, similar to most mods. On most servers, using hacked clients is a punish offense and can get banned players (or by administrators or with an anti-cheat) Server, depending on the policies and server rules. They can give players unfair advantages about others in mini games or gammodes for things like fighting and babies. Belonging to 2B2T [edit | Edit Source] As 2B2T is an anarchy server, which means almost nothing is out of the limits in terms of Minecraft, it allows players to use these clients and, in fact, to make a part of everyday life in 2B. As is a large part of day-to-day regular activity on the server, customer use is almost an obligation and not use one is essentially crazy. Any newfags should keep this in mind and should be open to the picture to think that all players are using a hacked customer daily. In fact, players in 2B until they encode their own hacked customers. Most hacks in hacked clients are acceptable â € â €
